I. Manuscript Processing/Review Process

Each manuscript is subjected to three successive reviews: first review by editors who have expertise on the subject of the manuscript, peer review and final review. Peer review is conducted in the form of double-blind peer review and an objective refereeing is based mainly on the scientific validity of its content. Finally, a decision to accept or reject a manuscript is made by the Editorial Committee.

II. Page Charges Standard

No fees are charged to cover the cost of manuscript processing/review process. But accepted manuscripts will be published with a print charge of RMB 200 Yuan per printed page.